About This Game

Nobophobia is an atmospheric 3D horror, where you have to find a way out of the mysterious labyrinth of rooms and corridors.

You can try to run away from here, but "They" will not allow it. You hear Their voices, but while the light is shining, there is still hope. But what if the light goes out? The voices become intolerable. Their whisper in your head screams "Die!" Only a solid spirit can resist all the horrors of this place, and get out to the light. Your flashlight is your best friend and you must collect batteries to keep lighting your way. Some doors are locked, so find the key cards and open them! Remember, if you are left in the dark, you will be lost, and you will forever remain in darkness.

Hmm, this is a tough one. On the one hand, this game was really short but on the other hand, it's also really cheap. This game has the world's worst flashlight but it also had a few scares that I won't spoil. It's mainly a keycard and battery finding simulator and I think the flashlight has been made terrible on purpose to pad out the games length but I can't be sure of that. One thing I do know is that, I didn't hate it as much as everyone else but it is still insanely short and the flashlight is really bad.

I'm really stuck on whether or not to recommend this one. I think I'm going to have to say Not Recommended but it's close. I really feel like this one should be in the middle somewhere. I will say once the game price goes up over $1 I don't think it will be worth it. But if it's under a buck then take a chance on it. You might be disappointed but it's really very little to spend on a game.

I made a video if you're curious about the gameplay:
